- [H4] BANKS – Although most people seeking a loan to buy a business will think first of a traditional bank loan, I can tell you from years of business brokerage experience that banks generally do not make business acquisition loans. There are exceptions but they're rare.
- [H4] SBA – The SBA, through its approved lenders, provides business acquisition loans. The SBA does not make direct loans, but rather guarantees a portion of the loan that is made by the approved lender. It's known as the SBA 7(a) program. Wells Fargo Bank is currently the top volume SBA lender nationally.
- [H4] FAMILY – Many times the older generation in a family will loan the down payment or the entire amount needed to a promising member of the family's younger generation. If your family is willing to loan you the money, one word of advice is in order. Have a very clear understanding as to how the debt is to be handled and put it in writing in the form of a legal note.
- [H4] THE SELLER – In a significant percentage of the business transfers that I handle as a business broker, the owner of the business finances a portion of the purchase price for the buyer. Some sellers cannot offer owner financing for a variety of reasons, but when they can, it conveniently solves the problem of financing.
- [H4] 401(K) FUNDS AND IRA ACCOUNTS – The use of these funds to buy a business, without tax penalty, is a fairly recent development. Several national CPA and attorney groups have developed a plan, approved by the IRS, which allows you to use your funds for business acquisition. There are legal and accounting fees involved, but they are a small fraction of the tax penalty that would be assessed for cashing in these accounts early.
